STATISTICS

- The most common activity for children after school is watching television- on average 23 hours a week. (A.C. Nielson and Company, 1992)
- In America today, 1 in 4 youth- 14.3 million children, among them are more than 40,000 kindergarteners- are alone and unsupervised after school. (America After 3 p.m., May 2004)
- More than seven thousand students drop out of school every day. (Alliance for Excellent Education, 2006)
- One of the most commonly cited reasons for this is that students simply do not have the literacy skills to keep up with the high school curriculum, which has become increasingly complex.” (Kamil, 2003; Snow & Biancarosa, 2003)
